

Schedule for the 5th American International Morphology Meeting (all times in EDT, UTC-4)

Yellow highlight - Europe/Asia (early better)

Blue highlight - Mountain Time/Pacific Time (later better)

Thursday, August 26

8:15-8:30: Opening Welcome - Cynthia Clopper (The Ohio State University)

8:30-10:30: Descriptive Panel

- Ekaterina Georgieva (Hungarian Research Center for Linguistics) - Nominal ellipsis in Meadow Mari
- Jeremy Pasquereau (University of Surrey / Université de Poitiers), Matthew Baerman (University of Surrey) and Carolyn O'Meara (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México) - Scalar cross-domain plurality in Seri is recursive plurality
- Shengyun Gu (University of Connecticut) - Person agreement: an investigation of weak hand classifier verbs in Shanghai Sign Language
- Nikita Bezrukov (University of Pennsylvania) - Stuttering prohibition in Modern Armenian: Identity conditions and timing of haplology

10:30-10:45: Break

10:45-12:00: Plenary Talk

- Name - Title!

12:00-1:00: Break

1:00-3:00 Quantitative Panel:

- Martha Booker Johnson (Ohio State University) and Andrea Sims (Ohio State University) - Using word vectors to investigate semantic transparency cross-linguistically
- Hao Lin (Shanghai International Studies University), Zhenyu Chen (Fudan University), and Yuting Zhang (The Chinese University of Hong Kong) - How Palm-up finds its way to Chinese Sign Language --- a corpus-based approach
- Sahar Taghipour (University of Toronto) and Philip J. Monahan (University of Toronto) - Visual word recognition: The effect of paradigmatic gaps
- Alexandra Lilia Nasteveski (University of British Columbia) and Gunnar Ólafur Hansson (University of British Columbia) - Gradient defectiveness in Icelandic noun inflection: a quantitative study

3:00-3:15: Break

3:15-5:15: Historical and Contact Panel

- Xiaolong Lu (University of Arizona) - The development of antonymous compounds in Chinese: A constructionalization approach
- Brian D. Joseph (Ohio State University) - On English Verb-Noun Compounds from French: Multiple pathways to productivity
- Hans-Olav Enger (University of Oslo) - Meta-morphomic patterns in North Germanic
- Mark Aronoff (Stony Brook University) - Three ways of looking at morphological rivalry

Friday, August 27

8:30-10:00: Morphological Complexity Panel

- Micha Elsner (Ohio State University) and Andrea Sims (Ohio State University) - Analogical modeling of morphology for L1 effects in language contact
- Matías Guzmán Naranjo (University of Tübingen) and Olivier Bonami (Université de Paris) - An analogical approach to the typology of inflectional complexity
- Matthew Baerman (University of Surrey) - Inflectional merger as morphosyntactic abstraction

10:00-10:15: Break

10:15-12:15: Morpho-phonology Panel

- Simon David Stein (Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf) and Ingo Plag (Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf) - Effects of morphological categories without morphemes: Modeling the acoustic duration of English derivatives with linear discriminative learning
- Ji Yea Kim (Stony Brook University) - Bettie vs. Betsie: Morphological s-epenthesis in English diminutives
- Jason D. Haugen (Oberlin College) - Affixes as Targets for Reduplication
- Karee Garvin (University of California, Berkeley), Katherine Russell (University of California, Berkeley) and Hannah Sande (University of California, Berkeley) - There is no unified generative analysis of STAMP morphs

12:15-1:15: Break

1:15-2:30: Plenary Talk:

- Name - Title!

2:30-2:45: Break

2:45-4:00: Afternoon Poster Session (Gathertown): Link

- Lauren Schneider (Simon Fraser University), (Mis)matching morphology in multi-verb constructions in Hul'q'umi'num' Salish
- Noah Diewald (Ohio State University), Wao Terero lexical suffixes: Realization at the lexical semantic-discourse interface
- Emily Lindsay-Smith (University of Oxford), Challenging the Clitic Status of Arabic Bound Formatives
- Wesley Kuhron Jones (University of Oregon), The "Irrealis" in Bongu: How to Describe a Polyfunctional Morphological Category
- Sarah Payne (University of Pennsylvania), Caleb Belth (University of Michigan), Jordan Kodner (Stony Brook University), and Charles Yang (University of Pennsylvania), The Recursive Search For Morphological Productivity
- Lynn Hou (University of California, Santa Barbara), What morphological type does ASL have? The case of verb agreement revisited

- Elizaveta Tarasova (IPU New Zealand), Russian binominal constructions: Issues of competition
- Karine Megerdumian (MIT), Hossep Dolatian (Stony Brook University), Afsheen Sharifzadeh (Independent), and Bert Vaux (University of Cambridge), Elsewhere reversal: Analogical extension of irregular paradigms in Tehrani Armenian
- Farrell Ackerman (University of California, San Diego), Ágnes Kalivoda (Hungarian Research Centre for Linguistics), and Robert Malouf (San Diego State University), A network analysis of Hungarian preverb constructions
- Emmanuel Bawa (University of New Hampshire), Loanwords Adaptation in Àdará.
- Em Jessee (University of Michigan), Diane Yu (University of Michigan), and Savithry Namboodiripad (University of Michigan), Emergent mappings between form and etymological meaning as morphological knowledge
- Nicole Majka (Bangor University), Synonymous plural morphemes and their use in Welsh
- I thought this person wasn't coming? [Colin Davis (University of Southern California), Evidence for Case Containment from Balkar Possessive Morphology]

Saturday, August 28

8:30-10:30: Morpho-semantics Panel

- Akiko Nagano (University of Shizuoka) - On Property Concept Constructions in English Derivational Morphology
- Dominic Schmitz (Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf), Ingo Plag (Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf) and Dinah Baer-Henney (University of Düsseldorf) - Reconsidering pseudowords in morphological research
- Jesus Olguin (University of California, Santa Barbara) - Morphological marking of Generic Head Nouns of time
- Connor Rouillier (Ohio State University) - A Derivational Account of the Mass/Count Distinction for Arabic's Collective Nouns

10:30-10:45: Break

10:45-12:15: Typology Panel

- Matthew Juge (Texas State University-San Marcos) - Overlapping suppletion requires a modified canonical typology for suppletion
- Shuan Karim (Ohio State University) - Towards a typology of the ezafe: the Iranian ezafe as a type-raising functor
- Gregory Stump (University of Kentucky) - Counterposed affixes and their implications for morphotactic theory

12:15-1:15: Break

1:15-2:30: Plenary Talk

- Name and Title!

2:30-2:45: Break

2:45-4:00 Morning Poster Session (Gathertown): Link

- Gjorgje Bozhoviq (University of Belgrade), The Number Cycle in Albanian
- Erich Round (University of Surrey), Sacha Beniamine (University of Surrey), and Louise Esher (CNRS), Spontaneous emergence of inflectional class systems via attraction-repulsion dynamics
- Jelena Grofulovic (Leipzig University), Gereon Müller (Leipzig University), and Sam Zukoff (Leipzig University), Mobile Affixes Undergo Movement: An Argument from Extended Exponence
- Jessica Nieder (Heinrich-Heine-Universität Düsseldorf), Yu-Ying Chuang (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen), Ruben van de Vijver (Heinrich-Heine-Universität Düsseldorf), and Harald Baayen (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen), Computational modeling of Maltese noun inflections using Linear Discriminative Learning

- Pamela Goryczka (University of Vienna), Patterns of allomorphy involving disyllabic theme elements in Italian verb morphology
- Peter Rebrus (Research Institute for Linguistics, Hungarian Academy of Sciences), Péter Szigetvári (Eötvös Loránd University), and Miklós Törkenczy (Eötvös Loránd University), The paradigm in Hungarian Vowel Harmony
- Myriam Cantú-Sánchez (Universitat de Barcelona), Francisco Ordoñez (Stony Brook University), Juan Silva-Pereyra (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México), and John Grinstead (Ohio State University), Cousins Do Not Always Agree
- Peter Arkadiev (Institute of Slavic Studies of the Russian academy of Sciences) and Yury Lander (HSE University), Towards a typology of ambifixes
- Irina Burukina (MTA Research Institute for Linguistics; Eötvös Loránd University (ELTE)), Two ways to nominalize in Kaqchikel
- Yao Chen (Fujian Normal University) and Xuan Ye (Ohio State University), The Diminutive n-suffix in Qimen Hui dialect of Chinese
- Irene Fally (University of Vienna), Are some prefixes more transparent than others? Insights from the world of French verbs
- Jennifer Brunner (Karl-Franzens-Universität-Graz), Morphological coding of reality status in Central Pame

Sunday, August 29

8:30-10:30: Prediction and Production Panel

- Matthew Carter (University of California, San Diego) - Polyfunctional Argument Markers in Ket: Implicative Structure within the Word
- Eric Rosen (University of British Columbia) - Human-like morphological prediction through implicative relations
- Borja Herce (University of Zurich), Matthew Baerman (SMG, University of Surrey) and Jeff Parker (Brigham Young University) - Open vs closed classes in Pamean and the predictability of inflectional systems
- Guy Tabachnick (New York University) - A sublexicon approach to the Paradigm Cell Filling Problem

10:45-12:00: Plenary Talk

- Name - Title!

12:00-1:00: Break

1:00-2:00 Wordhood Panel

- Kyle Maycock (Ohio State University) and Andrea Sims (Ohio State University) - Albanian Second-Position Clitics as Suffixes: Evidence from Cumulative Exponence in the Noun Phrase
- Jeff Good (University at Buffalo) - Finding words: Domains of linearization and the word/phrase distinction

2:00-2:15 Break

2:15-4:15 Distributive Morphology Panel

- Anna Grabovac (University College London) - Maximizing concord through impoverishment: Evidence from Slavic
- Hayley Ross (Harvard University) - Implications of the Danish definiteness alternation for Nanosyntax
- Niels Torben Kuehlert (Harvard University) - The Limits of Root-Controlled Allomorphy
- Leila Lomashvili (Shawnee State University) - Voice Syncretism and the Syntax-Morphology Interface

4:15-4:30: Closing - Andrea Sims?
